A small folding card, Table of Five Figure Logarithms (Oliver Boyd, 6d.), has the same clear type. Another excellent Arithmetic comes into our hands almost simultaneously with the proof-sheets of the above. An Arithmetic for Schools. By J. P. Kirkman, M.A., and A. E. Field, M.A. 3s. 6d. We have consequently not time to go through it carefully, but we see with pleasure an appendix of 12 pages devoted to squared paper, the diagrams of which are nicely executed. This is an interesting and useful innovation. In multiplication and division the authors still cling too much to traditional methods of work. But we know too well the excuses they can plead. In all five of the above works Od Arithmetic we...
